Two months prior, Squar Milner merged in an accounting firm based in Silicon Valley. More significantly, the new firm will be one of the very few firms based in California to have substantial operations in both Southern and Northern California.

Welcoming the DZH Phillips team to Squar Milner, Steve Milner, Managing Partner, says, "We have worked for the last decade to establish ourselves as one of the preeminent firms based in California. We absolutely needed to have sizable operations in Northern California. We have a robust client base in technology who are obviously active in the Bay Area. We are very excited about our combination with DZH Phillips. They have a sophisticated client base, fantastic people, and great coverage of the Bay. We truly believe we are creating something wonderful and that there is something very special about a California firm."

"We are very excited to combine with Squar Milner. We both have great teams and clients. The Squar Milner combination will give our people expanded opportunities to grow and provide our clients innovative and specialized resources and services," says Lawrence B. Wood, Managing Partner of DZH Phillips LLP.

Squar Milner is one of the nation's largest accounting firms as well as one of the largest independent accounting and advisory firms in California and in the West. Squar Milner has offices in Los Angeles, Newport Beach, San Diego, Encino, Silicon Valley and the Cayman Islands. Squar Milner was established in 1951.
