From the 2018 reviews of invoicing apps.

Designed to work with current accounting software, Bill.com is widely utilized for its excellent AP automation. But Bill.com also offers solid payment processing capability as well. Best suited for small businesses, Bill.com helps to facilitate the accounts receivable process by offering business owners the ability to accept electronic payments, including ACH, EFT, credit cards, and PayPal. Integration with popular accounting applications such as QuickBooks, QuickBooks Online, NetSuite, Xero, Intacct, Microsoft Dynamics and Sage help to ensure that payment information processed through Bill.com will be automatically reflected in any corresponding accounting application as well.

Along with accepting electronic payments, Bill.com also allows users to send invoices to customers indicating their preferred payment method, along with an option to pay directly from the invoice. Bill.com will also send automatic payment
