than 190 countries and territories. And Thomson Reuters maintains a complete staff of tax professionals that are tasked with tracking tax rates and changes, ensuring that customers always have access to the most current rates available. The product easily processes a variety of options, including Unique Zip Codes, Non-Unique Zip Codes, Taxable Shipping, Sales Tax Holiday, Tax Rates at Varying Levels including State, County, and City Levels, and Tax Effective Dates. The tax database is updated automatically; delivering on-time monthly tax updates via SSAE 16 certified global tax research processes, so users will always have access to the latest, most reliable tax and calculation data.

ONESOURCE offers complete tax exemption certificate management, providing users with a view of the status of all certificates managed, including when how many certificates are expiring in the next 30 days. Users can also choose to view on screen all certificates that are expiring. With the customer portal, companies can have their customers enter their own exemption certificates.

ONESOURCE offers complete integration with a variety of third-party applications including Oracle Fusion, SAP Ariba, Magento, Microsoft Dynamics, NetSuite, Sage 50, Sage 100, Sage 500, SAP, Concur, and JD Edwards. The product also offers easy import/export capability, with users able to easily import data in a CSV or ASCII format. Data can also be exported to user point of sale, ecommerce, and accounting applications as desired.

Users can access ONESOURCE product support directly from the user interface. The support screen allows users to easily search for specific topics, access the FAQ's, or request support directly from Thomson Reuters. Both product training and webcasts specific to the product can be accessed from the support page as well.

ONESOURCE Indirect Tax Reporting is an add-on application designed to be used with ONESOURCE Determination. This optional product offers excellent reporting capability, with more than 40 standard reports available in the application. Reports
