Virginia and Colorado, offering automatic protection against system failure. Additional security measures employed by Cetrom include alarmed hallways at both data centers, fire suppression, intrusion protection systems, and backup power generators. Data backups are performed daily, and the Cetrom system requires two-factor authentication in order to access data, with all equipment FIPS 140 compliant as well.

Along with standard application hosting, Cetrom also offers hosted email services that allow users to access their Outlook email from any location using the device of their choice. Virtual Desktop services are also available, that offer easy access to desktop applications. Cetrom also offers the Cetrom Hybrid Solution, which stores data on the Cetrom servers, with a backup server maintained onsite, which provides some reassurance to those that are uncomfortable putting data 100 percent online.

A file-sharing option; Cetrom FS, offers bi-directional file sharing capability, synching local and cloud files seamlessly. All data is encrypted when stored on the device as well as when in-transit. Cetrom FS can also be branded with firm details, so it can be used for client access as well as an internal file sharing application. A Managed Services Portal is available, which allows Cetrom to proactively monitor hardware performance and detect common issues such as overheating or update requirements. Cetrom also handles the entire data migration process from initial review to the go live date.

Cetrom is an authorized Standard QuickBooks host, with the product also able to host more than 300 common applications, including Office 365, as well as numerous CPA/accounting industry-specific applications including Thomson Reuters CS Professional Suite applications such as Accounting CS, Fixed Assets CS, Planner CS, Practice CS, and UltraTax CS, BNA Fixed Assets; Wolters Kluwer CCH ProSystem fx applications such as ProSystem fx Engagement, ProSystem fx Practice Management, and ProSystem fx Document; , and Sage 50 Accountants Edition, Sage
