The accounting firm blumshapiro, which intentionally uses only lowercase letters in its name, has announced the election of a new partner, Brooke Simpson, CPA. As a partner with blumshapiro, Simpson joins the international tax practice in blum's Boston, MA office. The firm claims to be the largest regional business advisory firm based in New England with offices in Connecticut, Massachusetts and Rhode Island.

With over 15 years of tax planning experience, Simpson has provided sound strategic planning for both U.S. and multi-national corporations. She has worked as an International Tax Director at PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP in Boston since 2004, and since 2009 has served as an adjunct professor at the University of Massachusetts, teaching and developing business courses at the undergraduate and graduate levels.

“Brooke’s extensive experience providing strategic tax planning leadership to both U.S.-based and multi-national corporations makes her an ideal fit for blumshapiro. She is a results-proven, growth-oriented and globally focused leader who has seen myriad success over the past 15 years, and we are fortunate to have someone as motivated and dynamic as Brooke join our team to help grow our Tax Practice ,” said Joseph Kask, CEO of blumshapiro.

In addition to tax and financial consulting, Simpson brings with her extensive experience in mergers and acquisitions, strategic product flow planning, tax reform strategies, vision and mission planning, IP planning and leadership development. She is licensed as a CPA in both Florida and Massachusetts, and holds a Bachelor of
