users to complete the setup process. Once that is complete, the flow of data begins and users benefit from the following:

- Convenience. After setup, with each payroll processed, payroll transactions flow into the user's QuickBooks Online journal entry, using an API tailored to Intuit. Delivering an accurate and secure exchange of information, the application then authenticates the data so that it flows seamlessly from the Paychex GLS to QuickBooks Online.
- Time savings. With some businesses processing payroll as many as 52 times a year, the time savings from the data synchronization can be significant – eliminating the need to manually generate an export of the general ledger file from Paychex Flex, then downloading the data to QuickBooks each pay period. This process is now fully automated to maximize the efficiency of shared customers.
- Dedicated support. In addition to the efficiencies gained from real-time data integration, live phone support is available from a Paychex GLS specialist.

Barb Kapinos, a bookkeeper with Boyd Andrew Management Services in Helena, Montana, is already realizing the efficiencies. "I like that I don't have to enter all that payroll. It just comes in and it's right there. It's so nice. That's a big time-saver," said Kapinos.

"At the center of any successful business is an accounting system fueled by data. With this new integration, we're helping both business owners and our valued accounting partners gain much needed efficiency and productivity by introducing simple and easy-to-use real-time data integration that ensures data integrity across platforms," said Tom Hammond, Paychex vice president of corporate strategy and product management. "Over the past year, Paychex has made a significant investment in our integration strategy with all our accounting technology partners, including
