

Hello. It looks like you're using an ad blocker that may prevent our website from working properly. To receive the best experience possible, please make sure any blockers are switched off and refresh the page.

If you have any questions or need help you can email us webinars, help sheets and case studies.

Oct. 21, 2019

The IRS is joining an international coalition in launching the second annual International Charity Fraud Awareness Week (ICFAW). Through Oct. 25, the coalition will raise awareness and share practices to help charities and other not-for-profit organizations avoid fraud and stop financial crime.

A key feature of this year's campaign is an online hub where charity professionals and counter-fraud experts can discuss and share ideas through a series of live interactive webinars, help sheets and case studies.

Those encouraged to participate in the week's activities include:

- Trustees, staff and volunteers from charities, non-government organizations and other nonprofits
- People representing the interests of nonprofits

- Accountants, auditors and solicitors acting as professional advisors to nonprofits

Hello. It looks like you're using an ad blocker that may prevent our website from working properly. To receive the best experience possible, please make sure any blockers are switched off and refresh the page.

If you have any questions or need help you can email us

Anyone interested in participating in ICFAW can visit the Fraud Advisory Panel website to learn more about how to get involved. Also, individuals can follow ICFAW activities on social media by searching #CharityFraudOut.

Visit the Charity Fraud Awareness Hub to view resources on preventing charity fraud.

Advisory

CPA Practice Advisor is registered with the National Association of State Boards of Accountancy (NASBA) as a sponsor of continuing professional education on the National Registry of CPE Sponsors.

© 2024 Firmworks, LLC. All rights reserved