requirements.”

Armanino's Integration Packs for LeafLogix are delivered with tax, accounting and consulting expertise solely focused on the cannabis industry, offering clients the technology to meet regulatory compliance and scale for growth, as well as the expert knowledge to support all components of operating a cannabis business.

The integration packs work with leading ERP platforms such as Sage Intacct, Microsoft Dynamics GP, Microsoft Dynamics 365 or NetSuite to ensure fast, accurate and reliable data analysis for credible transactions. This automation allows clients to reduce error-prone manual data entry and perform critical accounting functions without duplicating efforts.

Armanino's Cannabis team provides clients with the right solutions, best practices and guidance every step of the way, to maximize operational efficiencies and compliance for planned growth and future success. The partnership elevates the cannabis industry by providing both a cohesive solution and a roadmap for any type of cannabis vertical.

“Our partnership with Armanino strengthens our position for our users by taking full advantage of their accounting integration packs and cannabis industry expertise through our seed-to-sale platform,” said James Minutello, CEO of LeafLogix.
