

Hello. It looks like you're using an ad blocker that may prevent our website from working properly. To receive the best experience possible, please make sure any blockers are switched off and refresh the page.

If you have any questions or need help you can email us recommendations for providing taxpayers access to empowered IRS employees; timely ...

Jan. 31, 2020

The National Association of Tax Professionals (NATP) joined a group of stakeholder organizations to provide the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) with recommendations as it prepares reports to Congress as mandated by the Taxpayer First Act. In the letter, the group notes it is providing collective input as the IRS prepares these reports and recommends the IRS establish a new Practitioner Services Division as an integral part of the organization's modernization.

“The IRS needs to adopt a visionary approach looking beyond immediate constraints

Hello. It looks like you're using an ad blocker that may prevent our website from working properly. To receive the best experience possible, please make sure any blockers are switched off and refresh the page.

If you have any questions or need help you can email us

“We are pleased to support these recommendations along with our fellow stakeholders,” said NATP Executive Director Scott Artman, CPA. “The development of a Practitioner Services Division is a particularly important feature to us as it would improve the service our members can provide to their clients through improved data access.”

CPA Practice Advisor is registered with the National Association of State Boards of Accountancy (NASBA) as a sponsor of continuing professional education on the National Registry of CPE Sponsors.

© 2024 Firmworks, LLC. All rights reserved