FreshBooks, a cloud-based all-in-one business invoicing and accounting system, will now be available on the North American Ingram Micro Cloud Marketplace.

Freshbooks is the #2 small business accounting software in America, with paying customers in 100+ countries.

Beginning today, Ingram Micro's US-based channel resellers will be able to offer their customers FreshBooks' all-in-one business invoicing and accounting solution, including:

- Fast, Easy and Secure Invoicing and Online Payments
- Expense and Receipt Management
- Estimates and Proposals
- Team Time Tracking and Project Management
- Insightful Financial Reports
- Mobile Apps
- Award-Winning, Free Customer Support from FreshBooks' Support Rockstars

“Growth-minded small business owners are hungry for easy-to-use software that helps them save time, look professional, and get paid faster — and that’s FreshBooks,” said George Kyriakis, Head of Partnerships at FreshBooks. “We’re excited that thousands of Ingram Micro’s channel partners are now set up to easily sell FreshBooks to their customers.”

FreshBooks' software is designed for businesses that sell their time and expertise, particularly marketing, digital and design consultancies, business advisory and legal firms, IT professionals, web developers, and trades & construction companies, to name a few. Earlier this year, FreshBooks was selected as PC Mag's Editor's Choice.

“In response to growing demand for cloud accounting from our reselling partners, we’re excited to welcome FreshBooks into our Cloud Marketplace,” said Tim Fitzgerald, vice president of Cloud Channel Sales, Americas at Ingram Micro Cloud. “Software-as-a-Service platforms such as FreshBooks are a strong foundation for business.”

FreshBooks plans to expand distribution through Ingram to include Canada, the UK and Australia later this year.
