Entering new assets is easy, as the main asset entry screen is easily navigated. Tabs are available to access other program options including the Multi-Book Asset Entry option and the File Cabinet, where information such as warranty and repair records and maintenance schedules can be stored. When entered, each asset is assigned a unique identifying number, although users have the option to assign a custom number as well.

Each asset record in Fixed Asset Pro can include a detailed description of the asset, the date the asset was placed into service, the useful life of the asset, the business and investment percentage of the asset, along with later entries such as salvage value of the asset, disposal date and price, and any Section 179 deductions taken. Users can also track information such as product serial numbers, current custody of the asset, the current condition, and any investment tax credits taken.

Fixed Asset Pro can support up to six sets of books including Financial, Federal Tax, State Tax, Alternative Minimum Tax (AMT), and Adjusted Current Earnings (ACE) with a user-defined book available as well. The application includes 36 MACRS methods including regular MACRS, alternative MACRS, and straight-line MACRS. In addition, 6 Pre-1981 GAAP methods are available as are 24 ACRS methods with amortization, and manual depreciation entry options are available in the application as well. One useful feature is the ability to enter each asset once, with all sets of books automatically updated. Users can easily process asset disposals throughout the year, as transfers and exchanges are supported in the application as well.

Fixed Asset Pro offers a solid selection of asset and depreciation reports including a
