opportunity for professional development and offers actionable information they can apply in their firms. This fourth edition will cover topics ranging from the basics of artificial intelligence and blockchain, best-practices for creating better client conversations by leveraging the power of audit data analytics technology, and new auditor reporting standards, to the critical role that good communication and better firm management play in effective planning, just to name a few.

Wolters Kluwer Integrated Audit Approach focuses the audit process on auditor judgment, covering the entire end-to-end workflow to maximize efficiencies and guide firms to a higher quality audit avoiding over or under auditing. This unique approach facilitates their ability to make informed decisions by ensuring that the audit is tailored for each client, always having a link to the assessed risk and the work performed. It combines the powerful content-driven tools of CCH ProSystem fx Knowledge Coach and CCH Axxess Knowledge Coach, the efficiency of CCH ProSystem fx Engagement and TeamMate Analytics, plus the comprehensive content of CCH Accounting Research Manager and CCH Axxess Financial Prep, the first dynamic cloud-based trial balance solution integrated with Xero, QBOnline, CCH Axxess Workstream, CCH Axxess Tax, as well as other cloud-based audit solutions soon to be released on the award-winning CCH Axxess platform.
