can stay in control at every step by managing approval policies with custom workflows, ensuring payment accuracy and timeliness, and reduction of errors and risks

“The Bill.com and Dynamics 365 sync streamlines our entire AP process – from coding invoices, collecting approvals, to making digital payments – enabling us to have real-time visibility and understanding of our company’s cash position both with the accounting team and at the asset management level,” said Collin Casper, CFO of JMA Ventures LLC. “This integration eliminates duplication of work efforts and saves us tremendous time across the entire company.”

“We are thrilled to bring our Microsoft Dynamics 365 relationship to market to power payments processes for small and midsize businesses, helping them build efficient payment workflows, simplify their AP and AR management, and scale with stronger financial process control,” said Josh Goines, senior vice president of strategic partnerships and business development. “Cash flow is the lifeline for small and midsize companies, and at such a crucial time in our economy, it is important that we can deliver the digital tools and innovation to help them succeed.”

“This integration with Bill.com is a two-way automated sync, delivering native payment capabilities for Microsoft customers in a complete AP solution,” said Mike Morton, general manager of Dynamics Business Central at Microsoft. “As part of continually delivering solutions for our clients, we look for partners such as Bill.com that will bring new and differentiated offerings to the table.”

The Bill.com and Dynamics 365 automatic sync is now live. For more information on the Bill.com Sync with Microsoft Dynamics, click here.
