The Florida Institute of Certified Public Accountants (FICPA) recently presented its annual Women to Watch Awards, honoring the achievements of two its members: Experienced Leader Genevieve Hancock and Emerging Leader Rummesa Abrar.

“I’m honored to present this year’s awards, which recognize and celebrate the women among us who exemplify leadership excellence in the accounting profession,” said FICPA President & CEO Shelly Weir.

Hancock is currently in a consulting role with LPL Financial. She serves on the FICPA’s Accounting Principles and Auditing Standards Committee and its CFO &

Controller Conference Committee. She is also a regular speaker at FICPA Conferences recognizes women who have made significant contributions to the profession in the early stages of their career.

“Genevieve and Rummesa are two valued FICPA members,” Weir added. “I admire what they’ve accomplished and look forward to seeing how they advance the accounting profession in the years to come.”

Nominations for the 2022 Women to Watch Awards will be open from Dec. 1, 2021, through Jan. 15, 2022, with winners to be announced next June. More information can be found at www.ficpa.org/women-to-watch-awards.
