KnowledgeLake, a leading provider of Intelligent Document Processing (IDP) solutions, has announced RSM US LLP (RSM), the nation's leading provider of audit, tax, and consulting services focused on the middle market, as the newest member of its partner program.

This new collaboration will enable RSM to leverage KnowledgeLake's advanced document classification and data extraction tools to help meet the needs of public sector organizations and manufacturing companies with unique case management requirements. RSM and KnowledgeLake will collaborate to develop solutions that operate seamlessly with clients' current Microsoft Azure, Power Platform, and SharePoint Online deployments.

"RSM has consistently demonstrated the ability to meet its customers' evolving needs in today's dynamic business environment, which is why we're so excited about working together," said Ron Cameron, CEO of KnowledgeLake. "KnowledgeLake provides RSM with an agile, cloud-native IDP platform to help their clients intelligently optimize document-rich processes and modernize their operations. We're confident that our collaboration with RSM will further enhance the value they deliver to their customers while also helping them drive new subscription service revenue."

"Working with KnowledgeLake gives RSM an ideal platform for helping to build industry-specific solutions that work harmoniously with our customers' existing systems to help them improve their business processes," said Beatrice Baciuc, Content and Collaboration Practice Lead, RSM Director at RSM. "With a strong cloud offering and the ability to seamlessly interface with the Microsoft stack, KnowledgeLake is a
