held full-time roles with St. Scholastica Academy, The Inner Voice Inc., Nonprofit Financial Center, Association House of Chicago, and United Airlines. His volunteerism is extensive, including more than 20 volunteer roles with ICPAS. Notably, he was a vice president on the ICPAS Board of Directors and is a founding member of ICPAS' charitable partner, the CPA Endowment Fund of Illinois, of which he is also a former board member.

"It is my honor to present Bill with our 2022 Lifetime Achievement Award," says Todd Shapiro, ICPAS president and CEO. "Bill has had a tremendous impact on the CPA profession."

During his acceptance speech at ICPAS' Leadership Recognition and Awards Dinner on June 9, 2022, Flowers thanked his family, friends, and current and past staff and ICPAS colleagues and said, "You have always been there for me and have allowed me to combine my appreciation of accounting with my interest in not-for-profit service. I cannot fully express my appreciation and honor in being selected for the Illinois CPA Society's 2022 Lifetime Achievement Award."
