

Hello. It looks like you're using an ad blocker that may prevent our website from working properly. To receive the best experience possible, please make sure any blockers are switched off and refresh the page.

If you have any questions or need help you can email us subscribing to false tax returns and conspiracy to defraud the U.S.

Jason Bramwell • Jul. 06, 2022

A CPA in New Jersey told a judge on June 30 that he failed to disclose nearly $147,000 of income on his tax returns during a three-year period, authorities said.

William Kawam, 57, of Hewitt, N.J., pleaded guilty last week to charges of subscribing to false tax returns and conspiracy to defraud the United States during a videoconference before U.S. District Judge Madeline Cox Arleo.

Hello. It looks like you're using an ad blocker that may prevent our website from working properly. To receive the best experience possible, please make sure any blockers are switched off and refresh the page.

If you have any questions or need help you can email us

If convicted, Kawam faces a maximum penalty of three years in prison and a $100,000 fine for the count of subscribing to false tax returns, and a maximum penalty of five years in prison and a $250,000 fine for the count of defrauding the United States.

His sentencing is scheduled for Nov. 21, 2022.

Accounting • Taxes

CPA Practice Advisor is registered with the National Association of State Boards of Accountancy (NASBA) as a sponsor of continuing professional education on the National Registry of CPE Sponsors.

© 2024 Firmworks, LLC. All rights reserved