

Hello. It looks like you're using an ad blocker that may prevent our website from working properly. To receive the best experience possible, please make sure any blockers are switched off and refresh the page.

If you have any questions or need help you can email us scholarships, grants and fellowships to students for the 2022-2023 academic year.

Isaac M. O'Bannon • Sep. 22, 2022

The American Institute of CPAs (AICPA) Foundation awarded more than $1 million in scholarships, grants and fellowships to students for the 2022-2023 academic year.

The AICPA Foundation was established in 1922 to advance the science of accountancy and accounting education. Over the past 100 years, the Foundation has remained committed to supporting the next generation of CPAs through: accounting education and outreach, scholarships and fellowships, and diversity and inclusion.

“In this year of our 100th anniversary, we celebrate what we have accomplished and look forward to continuing to grow and support the next generation of CPAs,” said

Hello. It looks like you're using an ad blocker that may prevent our website from working properly. To receive the best experience possible, please make sure any blockers are switched off and refresh the page.

If you have any questions or need help you can email us

• AICPA Scholarship for Future CPAs

- AICPA Scholarship Award for Minority Accounting Students
- AICPA Foundation Two-year Transfer Scholarship Award
- AICPA John L. Carey Scholarship Award
- AWSCPA Scholarship Award

The complete list of 2022-23 recipients can be found at ThisWaytoCPA.com/LegacyScholarships.

The AICPA Foundation also granted fellowships to 23 minority doctoral students as part of the AICPA Fellowship for Minority Doctoral Students, which aims to bolster racial and ethnic diversity and inclusiveness among accounting educators at colleges and universities.

The fellowship program provides $12,000 to each student, renewable for up to an additional four years, assuming students continue to meet eligibility requirements.

“The AICPA is committed to building a more diverse, equitable and inclusive accounting profession,” said Mike Decker, VP of CPA Examination and Pipeline at the AICPA. “Having more CPAs in the classroom is an important component of building diversity, and we look forward to seeing these scholars progress through their doctoral programs and ultimately help educate future generations of CPAs.”

The 2022-23 Minority Doctoral Fellowship recipients, as well as the doctoral programs they are attending, are:

- Asabe Adama Mairama Danpollo, Cornell University
- Paige Gwenise Harrell, Emory University
- Vanessa Vandamas, Florida International University
- Moniqua (Nikki) Chappell, Florida State University
- Brittani Shantel Jackson, Indiana University

- Mary Ahonsi, Texas Tech University

Hello. It looks like you're using an ad blocker that may prevent our website from working properly. To receive the best experience possible, please make sure any blockers are switched off and refresh the page.

If you have any questions or need help you can email us

- Monica Kabutey, University of North Texas
- Timothy (Tim) Edward Messenger, University of Oregon
- Raul Villamil-Otero, University of South Florida
- Jose (Nico) Nicolas Arguello, University of Tennessee – Knoxville
- Triza Nganga, University of Texas – Arlington
- Christiana Antwi-Obimpeh, University of Texas – San Antonio
- Devon Privette Jefferson, Virginia Commonwealth University
- Tendai Masaya, Yale University

For more information about the AICPA Foundation and the support it provides to accounting students, view the Foundation's annual report.

Accounting • Firm Management

CPA Practice Advisor is registered with the National Association of State Boards of Accountancy (NASBA) as a sponsor of continuing professional education on the National Registry of CPE Sponsors.

© 2024 Firmworks, LLC. All rights reserved