The eligibility criteria to apply for the Outstanding Young CPA Award includes being a:

- licensed CPA between the ages of 22 and 40 and
- regular member of the AICPA.

To be considered for the award, candidates must apply and detail their volunteer history, along with professional reference forms from peers, employers and state CPA societies. It is critical for the candidate to be a role model within the profession, one who encourages students to pursue an accounting career. They also should be an active member of their community through their volunteer efforts to advance the accounting profession and improve their communities. A task force of peers, leveraged from the Young Member Leadership Committee, will review all qualified nominations to determine the winners.

The AICPA is committed to continuing to drive a robust pipeline of professionals. Through its partnership with The Chartered Institute of Management Accountants through the Association of International Certified Professional Accountants, the AICPA is better positioned to help accounting and finance professionals of today and tomorrow develop their skills.
