IRIS Software Group (IRIS), a leading global software provider of accountancy and document management solutions, today announced record growth in the Americas region for 2022. Driven by M&A, innovation and strategic senior hires, IRIS recorded 28 percent revenue growth as it successfully executed its vision to supercharge the company's operations in the Americas. Accounting firms continue to select IRIS solutions to support their business objectives, drive efficiency at scale and help them introduce new value-added services to their clients.

2022 saw IRIS accelerate its M&A and innovation strategies to deliver solutions that meet critical market and client demand while making data security, compliance and customer experience a top priority. As accounting firms struggled with talent attraction and retention, they've recognized how important it is to deploy best-in-class solutions that enable them to drive efficiency and deliver the quality services their customers expect with limited staffing. To meet this need, IRIS continued its aggressive M&A strategy in the Americas to ensure firms can remain compliant while introducing new client services. Key milestones included:

- myPay solutions – IRIS acquired myPay solutions in October 2022 to strengthen

Organization Controls (SOC) 2 Type II compliance in 2022, a testament that the solution provides enterprise level security to protect vital customer data.

- Doc.it – Following its 2021 acquisition of Doc.it, IRIS expanded its document management capabilities in 2022 to include the most recent release which provides cloud-based document management to meet growing demand for systems that offer accountants flexibility and scalability and enable them to migrate to the cloud at their own pace.

As a result of this progress, IRIS now supports 52 of the top US 100 CPA firms as well as 6,800+ small and midsize firms including Baker Tilly, PSB Boisjoli, Kassouf & Co., Farm Credit East, ACA and BBFS, Inc. This is a testament to IRIS's ability to provide the solutions that any sized accounting firm requires to be more efficient and increase margins while growing their businesses.

IRIS also invested in key strategic C-level hires in the Americas in 2022, appointing Jim Dunham President and General Manager and Paul Nagy Chief Product Officer. Strengthened leadership in the Americas allows IRIS to work directly with clients and staff to drive sustained growth and innovation. Over the past year, IRIS experienced 61% employee growth in the region.

Jim Dunham, President and General Manager, IRIS says, "For more than 40 years IRIS has consistently invested in its people, products and professional services to enhance how we collaborate with clients to take the pain out of processes. Our growth in 2022 is a testament to our commitment to the Americas and positions us for continued growth in 2023 as we continue our focus on customers while delivering best in class solutions for Practice Management, Document Management and Payroll."

IRIS also received continued industry recognition throughout the year for its innovation and service including the Prime Award, Technical Support Award and
