Thomson Reuters announced today that ONESOURCE Indirect Tax has achieved SAP certification for integration with the SAP S/4HANA Cloud, private edition. This rare competitive advantage means customers can now leverage the ONESOURCE Determination product to perform accurate tax calculations and simplify technical requirements while staying compliant with evolving tax regulations – and reducing the need for customizations.

“IT and tax professionals shouldn’t have to choose between functionality and and zero down-time for upgrades – ONESOURCE reduces the time and effort required to implement and maintain the solution, making it easier for customers to stay compliant with evolving tax regulations. In addition, customers using the ONESOURCE integration with SAP S/4HANA should reduce the need for custom coding and content.

It can be challenging for companies with global operations to comply with local regulations in multiple countries. This integration helps multinational corporations operate more efficiently and with the confidence of being backed by an industry-leading certification.

The SAP certification validates that ONESOURCE follows SAP guidelines for third-party add-ons, ensuring high levels of security and performance for customers. For more on ONESOURCE Determination, visit
