HubSync Co., a SaaS software company with a next-generation tax and accounting automation platform, raised its Series A investment round, which was led by Nashville Capital Network (NCN) and included other highly-strategic industry veterans. The funding will be used to fuel HubSync's rapid growth and further accelerate product development.

Innovative CPA firm leaders rely on HubSync's all-in-one, modern client platform which automates the tax return and other key processes and provides a single gateway to drive "Best-in-Class" collaboration between professionals and their clients. "HubSync has built an integrated, intuitive platform that greatly benefits tax, audit, and advisory professionals no matter their role. HubSync's founder John McGowan and the rest of the team have decades of experience in developing technology for Big 4 firms, which helped HubSync secure contracts with a rapidly expanding list of Top 50 firms," said Sid Chambless, Managing Partner at NCN.

“We could not be more thrilled to work with NCN. They are the ideal partner for us

Everything in one place. HubSync provides a single gateway for modern collaboration between industry professionals and their clients providing them with all the necessary information and tools directly at their fingertips.

Seamless Integration. The HubSync platform allows firms to deliver a seamless and intuitive experience that professionals now expect – moving away from a host of siloed, single-purpose applications with disparate interfaces that are unable to speak to one another.

Modern Client Experience. Not only does HubSync's platform transform the entire process for CPA firms, but their clients also benefit from a modern experience that includes digital signatures, robust file sharing and collaboration, real-time status tracking, modern mobile experience, and delivery of new functionality throughout the year.
