Employees of small and larger businesses often need to use disconnected tools to track their work hours, schedules, and paid time off, leaving them frustrated and uncertain about finances on payday and between paychecks. Today, Intuit Inc. alleviates these pain points on a global scale with the launch of the new QuickBooks Workforce mobile app. Intuit is the global financial technology platform that makes Intuit TurboTax, Credit Karma, QuickBooks, and Mailchimp.

The QuickBooks Workforce mobile app, previously named the QuickBooks Time mobile app, is available to employees of businesses in the U.S., Canada, UK, and Australia. The new Workforce name reflects QuickBooks' vision to provide businesses access to their pay stubs and tax documents in the mobile app. This is in addition to already having the ability to access important on-the-job tools in one centralized app, including time-tracking, scheduling, and paid time off, saving time and reducing payday anxiety for them and their employers.

“We recognized the importance of providing employees with a centralized hub that helps them manage their work and pay,” said Jennifer Bickerstaff, Vice President of Product Management for Intuit QuickBooks, Time Business Segment. “It’s crucial for employees to accurately track their time to ensure they’re paid correctly and on time. This has the added benefit of enabling employers to invoice customers accurately for billable time and increase profitability of projects. It’s also important for employees to have easy access to pay stubs, tax documents, and other pay insights to help them plan and make smarter money decisions for themselves and their families. The new QuickBooks Workforce mobile app is now that hub designed to help growing businesses take care of their teams.”

All users across the U.S., UK, Canada, and Australia will see the new Workforce name and logo, with all previous QuickBooks Time settings, data, and integrations remaining in place, requiring no action from the business owners, admins, or employees. The QuickBooks Workforce app is available for both Android and iOS.

QuickBooks Time is Intuit’s time-tracking solution that makes it easy for business owners to manage their teams. Employers will continue to use QuickBooks Time as their back-office solution that also integrates with QuickBooks Payroll to manage their team’s time, projects, and payroll.
