Bloomberg Tax & Accounting has launched its new AI Lab to enhance the Bloomberg Tax Research experience. The new Bloomberg Tax AI Lab offers customers the option of testing new AI-driven tools, beginning with an enhanced search experience using AI functionality.

The first enhancement included in Bloomberg Tax AI Lab is a question and answer service, combining Bloomberg Tax Research with a large language model (LLM) to produce an AI-generated summary response. This contextualized response provides a

Bloomberg Tax Research customers can opt in to access the Bloomberg Tax AI Lab. Feedback provided by users will inform improvements and guarantee a more seamless experience when these AI features become a permanent part of Bloomberg Tax Research. Additional features will be added to Bloomberg Tax AI Lab in the coming months.
