...acquiring similar-minded firms is a big part of our strategic growth plan. This transaction supports our ongoing expansion efforts to better serve the Michigan market,” said Chad Anschuetz, managing shareholder and chairman of Troy, MI-based Doeren Mayhew, in a statement. “Michael and his team have done an excellent job building deep relationships with their clients. We’re confident they will be great stewards of our client-centric culture.”

Sorrentino, a partner/member at Button Eddy & Sorrentino, brings his assurance and tax practice comprised of manufacturers, distributors, contractors, nonprofit organizations, healthcare providers, and other privately held businesses and individuals, along with his staff, to Doeren Mayhew.

“We’re excited to see where the future takes us with Doeren Mayhew,” Sorrentino said. “Given our clients’ evolving needs, it was necessary to partner with a local firm with expanded capabilities. Doeren Mayhew offers an expansive suite of services and is well-respected in the accounting profession. Having the opportunity to join their team gives us the confidence we will be able to continue meeting our clients’ needs well into the future.”

Doeren Mayhew, which had revenue of $116.7 million during its most recent fiscal year, has eight offices in four states: Florida, Michigan, North Carolina, and Texas.
