

Hello. It looks like you're using an ad blocker that may prevent our website from working properly. To receive the best experience possible, please make sure any blockers are switched off and refresh the page.

If you have any questions or need help you can email us of six new members to its Not-for-Profit Advisory Committee (NAC), effective January 1, 2024.

Isaac M. O'Bannon • Jan. 10, 2024

The Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) has announced the appointment of six new members to its Not-for-Profit Advisory Committee (NAC), effective January 1, 2024.

The NAC serves as a standing resource for the FASB. Its role is to obtain input from

Hello. It looks like you're using an ad blocker that may prevent our website from working properly. To receive the best experience possible, please make sure any blockers are switched off and refresh the page.

If you have any questions or need help you can email us

- Anat Kendal, Chief Financial and Business Operations Officer, Pancreatic Cancer Action Network
- Ellen Labita, Partner, Baker Tilly US, LLP
- Sheryl Madden, Deputy CFO and Controller, The Kresge Foundation.

Each new member was appointed to a four-year term ending on December 31, 2027.

“The six new members of the FASB’s Not-for-Profit Advisory Committee come from diverse professional backgrounds and organizations, but one thing they all share is a commitment to high-quality financial reporting in the not-for-profit space,” stated FASB Chair Richard R. Jones. “On behalf of the FASB, I am pleased to welcome them to the NAC and look forward to the insights they will add to the group’s robust discussions on standard-setting issues affecting not-for-profit stakeholders.”

Six NAC members concluded their service on December 31, 2023: Kevin Carey, Chief Financial Officer, YAI; Jennifer Deger, Director of Finance-Global Controller, Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation; Melisa Galasso, Owner, Galasso Learning Solutions; Dennis Gephardt, Vice President, Senior Credit Officer, Moody’s Investors Service; Barbara Potts, System Vice President-Finance, SSM Health; and Andrea Wright, Partner, Johnson Lambert LLP.

“The insights shared by departing NAC members helped the FASB better understand and address financial reporting issues faced by the not-for-profit sector,” added Chair Jones. “We appreciate their years of service on the NAC and for continuing to uphold the mission of this important advisory group.”

For more information about the NAC and its activities, visit www.fasb.org.

Hello. It looks like you're using an ad blocker that may prevent our website from working properly. To receive the best experience possible, please make sure any blockers are switched off and refresh the page.

If you have any questions or need help you can email us