Quadient is expanding its Quadient Experience Partner Program to include the company's financial automation solutions. Previously focused on Quadient's CCM solutions, the new program brings more value to partners while expanding the reach of Quadient's cloud solutions' rich features and functions to more customers.

Currently, more than 100 business and technology partners collaborate with Quadient on delivering and integrating with the company's CCM and document market. The partner program expansion is designed to enable partners to quickly address customer needs in this market through ready-built integrations into leading accounting and ERP solutions.

“We’re expanding our partner program to offer the same advantages across our software partner ecosystem, from resellers to fully integrated partners of our CCM and financial automation solutions. With more partners offering our cloud solutions globally, more businesses will gain access to powerful features and capabilities that are readily integrated with their existing technology,” said Chris Hartigan, chief solution officer, Intelligent Communication Automation, Quadient. “Our partners now have the opportunity to enrich their portfolio of services by leveraging more of Quadient’s world leading solutions for finance and business process automation.”

With the ambition to become the preferred provider of communication and financial automation solutions for businesses of all sizes, Quadient collaborates with strategic and technology partners. Business partners offer expertise, software implementation services, referrals and consultancies, while technology partners provide platforms that offer connectors to Quadient solutions and provide access to a larger number of customers.
